Hear! Ye Housewives of El Paso

YOU are the purchasing agents of the home. You wield four-fifths of the purchasing power of El Paso. You are the economic masters in your particular sphere.

Have you given due thought to the matter of buying "Made in El Paso" goods? In your marketing, your purchasing of the articles of use and supply, your filling of the wants of the home, would it not be both wisdom and prudence and economy as well to give every possible preference to the article that is "Made in El Paso"?

Your husbands, the bread-winners of your families, in their office, store, business or place of labor or employment derive their living and yours from El Paso. The trade of others is their support and yours. They and you are daily partakers of the fruits of community reciprocity. The dollar spent at home will come your way again. The prosperity you help to bring to your fellow citizen is yours also in the end, in just proportion.

Come down, not once, but several times, during the week of Jan. 11th to 16th and visit the "Made in El Paso" display in the windows of The White House and the booths in Little Plaza. Take note of the dozens of articles made right here at home that you might buy instead of the substitute from outside that you have been purchasing. It will make you think. It will make you look at the situation in its true light. Bring along a little pad and write down the "Made in El Paso" articles with which you can supply yourself in future. You can spend hours inspecting this wonderful display. It will be an education to you. It will give you new ideas. Get into the game. Do your part for El Paso's prosperity by buying "Made in El Paso" goods.
